PREFACE:

Recent Trends of Research in Health Sciences in Indonesia

Abubakar Yaro¹, ², ³

¹Editor in Chief of Annals Tropical of Medicine and Public Health, ²President & Editor in Chief of AHRO Scientific Publishing, and ³Founding Director of Africa Health Research Organization, UK.

Corresponding author: Abubakar Yaro; Email: editor@atmph.org or ahropublishing@outlook.com
Tel & Whatsapp: +44-7425885437

How to cite this article: Yaro (2020): Recent Trends of Research in Health Sciences in Indonesia, Ann Trop & Public Health; Vol. 23 Issue (S8): 1198. DOI: http://doi.org/10.36295/ASRO.2020.238

This edition of the Annals Tropical of Medicine and Public Health (ATMPH) special issue is selected manuscripts from several Health Sciences International Conferences in Indonesia, namely: (i) The 2nd International Conference on Medicine and Health Sciences, (ICMHS), Jember, November 30 to December 1, 2018; (ii) The 1st International Conference on Health Professional (ICoHP) conjunction with the Indonesia Doctoral Forum of Health Polytechnic, Jakarta, September 23 to 24, 2019; (iii) The 7th National Scientific Forum with Conjunction to The 1st International Conference and Exhibition on Dentistry (ICoDE), Jember, September, 06 to 07, 2019; and (iv) The 1st International Conference on Indonesian Family Planning & Reproductive Health (ICIFPRH), Yogyakarta, September, 30 to October 02, 2019. The four international conferences aim to facilitate scientific communication among scientists, practitioners, and students to share their research findings, to update their knowledge and to gain experiences in health sciences.

The selection, refereeing, and editing of the manuscripts was carried out by the special issue editor team as the representative the ATMPH in Indonesia, namely:

Principal Editor: Roy Hendroko Setyobudi (Malang, IND).
Scientific and Editorial Board: Juris Burlakovs (Tartu, EST); Maizirwan Mel (Kuala Lumpur, MYS); Olga Anne (Klaipėda, LTU); Peeyush Soni (Kharagpur, IDN); Tsitsino Turkadze (Kutaisi, GEO); Yahya Jani (Kalmar, SWD); and Zane Vincēviča-Gaile (Riga, LVA).

The Scientific and Editorial Board team is organized on an international basis, to meet the requirements of the Directorate General of Higher Education, Ministry of Education and Culture Republic of Indonesia, Scopus, Elsevier, and Web of Science - Clarivate Analytics. The selection and refereeing of manuscripts were also carried out based on the internationalization of the manuscript author team to meet diversity in the geographical distribution of authors. The publication of the selected manuscripts will be done gradually in several of ATMPH Special Issues volumes. All manuscripts was reviewed by at least two experts using the double-blind system, also passed refereeing by the publication requirements by ATMPH standard, reviewer's comments, and SI (Système International d'Unités). The similarity test used Turnitin program (with the highest margin on 20 %), with 90 % of the references were strictly examined on 15 years at the oldest, and reflected in Google.

This ATMPH Special Issue, May, 2020, Vol. 23 Issue 8 consists of 20 selected manuscripts, amount 18 manuscripts of them were the results of joint research by Indonesian and overseas scholars. In the collaboration researches, from abroad Indonesia are: Australia, Latvia, Lithuania, Malaysia, Pakistan, Philippines, Sweden, Taiwan, Timor Leste, and United Kingdom.